

Acrylic

For more than 50 years, LOUVERLUX LOUVER manufactures successfully acrylic glass components as well as light louvers. In doing so, we focus on the wishes and suggestions of our customers. One of our greatest strengths is the manufacture of customized individual products through to series production. Our long-standing and experienced employees develop and organize efficient production processes and implement them independently. With us, the customer is king. We realize your wishes and ideas quickly and purposefully – with a great deal of expertise and attention to detail. The results are niche products of high quality for which we are recognized nationally and internationally.

LOUVERLUX LOUVER – we stand for quality, worldwide.
